By Harry Reinders

The musical score is written in treble clef with a key signature of two flats (Bb and Eb) and a common time signature (C). It consists of four staves of music. The lyrics are: "I sing a new song un-to the Lord I sing a new song un-to the Lord A song of glad-ness A song of Praise A song of thanks to Him I raise". Chord symbols are placed above the notes: Eb and Bb7 above the first staff; Eb and Eb7 above the second staff; Ab and Eb above the third staff; and Eb above the fourth staff. The music features a mix of chords and melodic lines, with some notes beamed together and some held over.
